single node Here's my current structure of the firebase database. I need to query the data that has the same app/id and learn/id. I've tried using the query below in node.js, but it returns null. A: First of all, your real-time database already implements indexing, so you should be able to get all documents that match a query just like you'd get all documents with an index on a specific field. If you want to get all documents with the same app/id and learn/id in the same document, you can simply run:

var db = firebase.database();
var result = db.ref('app/id/learn/id')

`).once('value').then(function(snapshot) { var doc = snapshot.val(); ... });` This will result in an asynchronous operation, so if you need to do something with the results, you should handle it in the callback. If you need to avoid the callback and get the results synchronously, you can use `Query` instead: `var db = firebase.database(); db.ref('app/id/learn/id').once('value').then(function(snapshot) { var doc = snapshot.val(); ... // Compute results here ... return doc; });` Our 2018 Spring/Summer sneaker selection comes from some of the
