Hope you enjoy our resources, please feel free to contact us[Rational use of antibiotics. Problems and solutions]. The most important aspect in the use of antibiotics is the realization that they are very dangerous drugs, and that a low tolerance of failure has to be assumed for their use. A new group of antibiotics with a wide spectrum of action have become available (linezolid, daptomycin, quinupristin/dalfopristin, telithromycin, etc.). Both indications and routes of administration have to be defined before prescribing a drug. Phylactic treatment is also difficult, not least in hospitals. Education of doctors is needed to help them to follow the principles of rational antibiotic use. We continue our daily review of the new Android M Beta preview: today, we'
